Free Zone Advantages

The Uruguay Free Zone regime, supported by Law 15.921, guarantees total tax exemption and the free repatriation of capital and dividends.

A legal framework with more than a century of consistency that offers legal security and long-term predictability for international operations.

WITH FREE ZONE IN URUGUAY

- ✓ Total tax exemption (Law 15.921) and payment of tariffs only when the goods enter their final destination.
- ✓ 100% repatriation of capital and dividends.
- ✓ Legal security with +100 years of consistency.
- ✓ Possibility of value-added processes (labeling, kitting, re-packaging, etc).
- ✓ Totally flexible regional inventory to supply any country, with no limit on the length of stay of the merchandise in the Free Zone (FZ).

STOCK IN EACH COUNTRY, WITHOUT FREE ZONE

- ✗ Payment of tariffs from the moment the merchandise arrives in the country, and payment of all national taxes.
- ✗ Fiscal restrictions and less financial flexibility.
- ✗ Regulatory changes and greater uncertainty.
- ✗ Need to adapt the product locally, resulting in less cost efficiency.
- ✗ Nationalized inventory is expensive to move to another country in case of a drop in demand and high total regional inventory.

Strategic Location and Connectivity

We have more than four decades of consolidated experience in the market.

Throughout these years, we have accompanied our clients by reducing lead times and optimizing nationalized inventories, generating sustainable savings and greater flexibility in the region.

01.

Lead time reduction

Reduction of lead times by up to 70% vs. direct shipping from origin.

02.

Inventory optimization

Less tied-up capital thanks to shared regional stock.

03.

Financial savings

Deferral of tariffs until nationalization.

04.

Commercial flexibility

Possibility of adapting products to the final market once demand is confirmed.

05.

Logistics efficiency

Consolidation of cargo origins and more efficient international transport costs.

06.

Scalability

Ability to absorb seasonal peaks without service interruptions.

07.

Political and economic stability

A reliable environment that provides predictability and security to invest and operate.

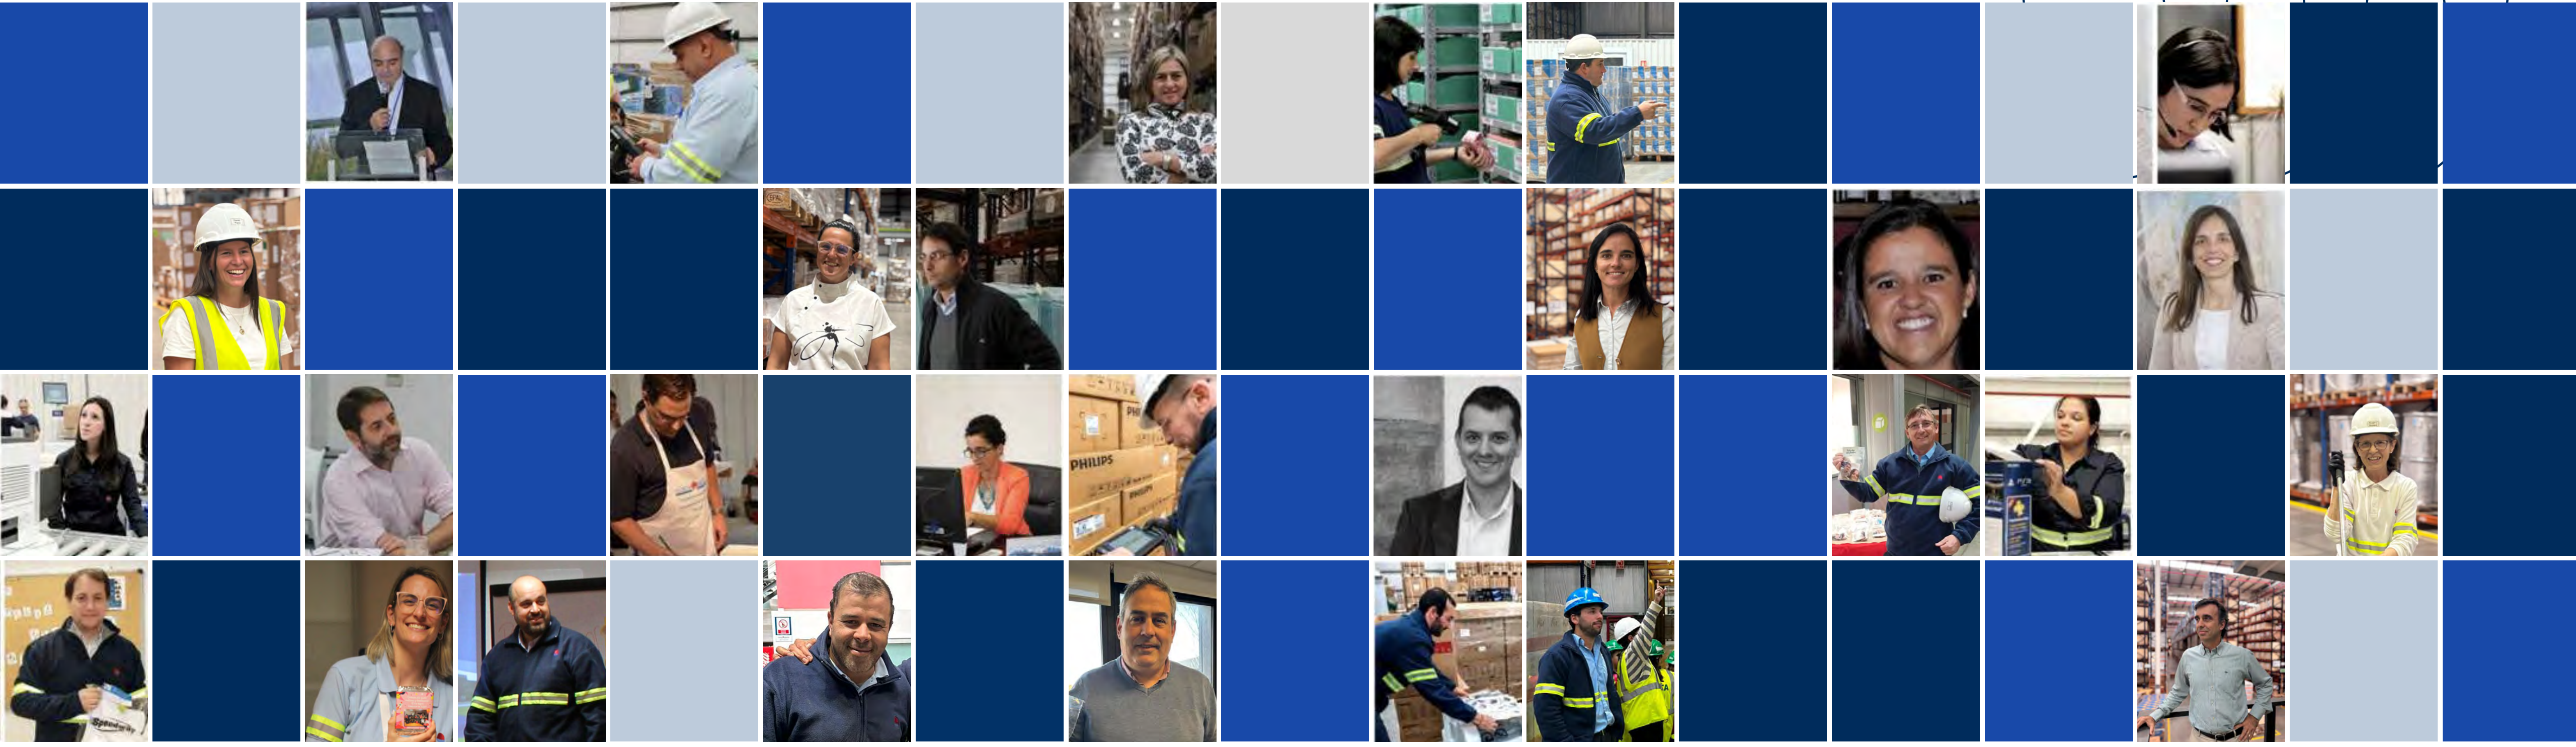

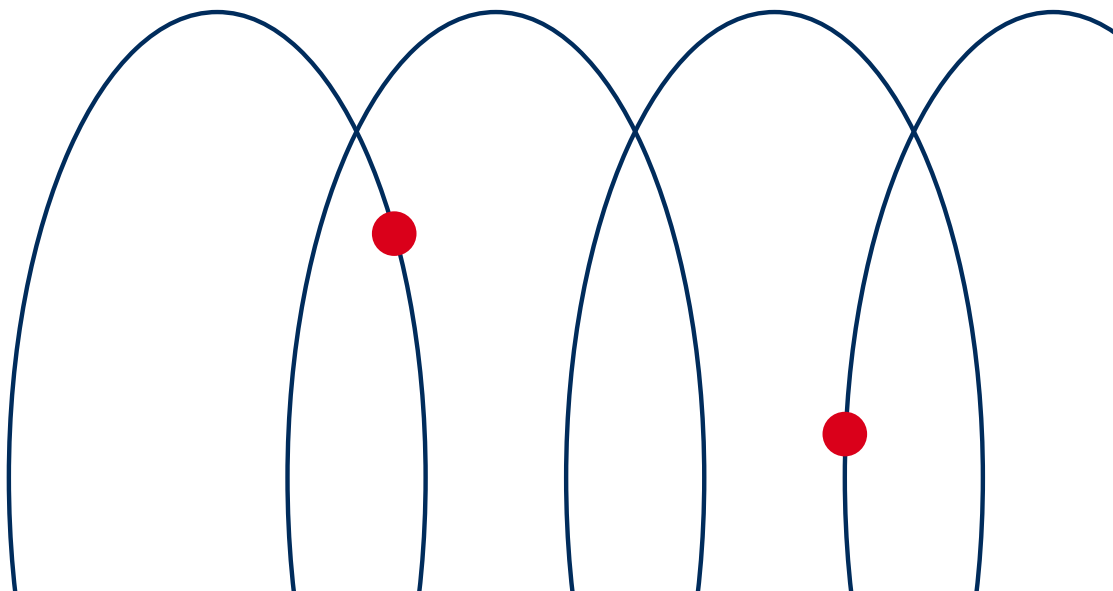

08.

Free Trade Zone Regime

Solid legal framework offering tax benefits and guarantees for international trade.
